Gamelan Son of Lion is an American made set of instruments built in the style of the iron village gamelans of Indonesia. There are two tuning systems, the 5 tone slendro heard in the first piece, and the 7 tone pelog heard in the second half of the program. The new compositions (*) by Ki Wasitodipuro and Peter Griggs have been commissioned by the N.E.A. as part of the Consortium Commissioning program by which repertoire is exchanged between like ensembles.
